

Ken Robertson

Ken is a U.S. Air Force veteran who has a Bachelor's of Business in Accounting (cum laude) and an MBA from University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. He is a licensed CPA, and has been recognized as Chief Financial Officer of the Year, noted by Madison 365 as one of the 48 most influential black leaders in Wisconsin in 2021 and most recently noted by the Milwaukee business journal as a black leader you should know. In his previous role, he served as Executive Vice President/Chief Operating Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Greater Milwaukee Foundation managing over $1B+ in assets, leading a $100M+ collaboration project, serving as staff lead for Administration & Audit, Investment, and Impact Investment committees, and building a robust internal pipeline of talent. He has worked both domestically and internationally for several organizations, eventually serving as the financial lead (CFO) for the largest Boys & Girls Clubs group in the country (Greater Milwaukee).

